Govt. have the power to grant exemption from personal appearance to pensioners. In British India this power has been delegated to certain Heads of Depts & to Collectors.

6 There are no general orders defining the principles of such grant. It is deducible from the sanctioned cases that exemption has been very sparingly given in the past in view of the high status of the returning or the retired office or in recognition of the services done by him. These cases are referred to in paragraph 3.

7 In view of the ripe old age of Mr A. Srinivasachariu, the good services done by him to the State & the title of R.B. he holds, this representation seems to be deserving of consideration.

8. Submitted with reference to the Dewan's Note, paragraph 1.
